

“The Best Little Weekly in Maine Since 1989”

P.O. Box 89 Jonesbrook Crossing So. China, ME. 04358
(207) 445-2234 Fax (207) 445-2265 Email: townline@fairpoint.net

Our Vision:

To enhance the quality of life.

Our Mission:

To create a vibrant rural community connecting our towns, organizations and individuals through communication, education, and public dialogue.

Our Goals:

- Publish a weekly, non-partisan, balanced newspaper.
 - Be a sustainable nonprofit organization.
 - Build good community relations.

The Town Line Inc. Statement of Purpose

The Town Line Inc., not-for-profit organization’s purpose is to promote and foster a growing, healthy, central Maine community comprising of China, Albion, Palermo, Windsor, Vassalboro, Winslow, Unity, Skowhegan, and their environs, and the production of a free, local area newspaper to serve this community.

The Town Line, Inc., is governed by a volunteer board of directors and staffed by a managing editor, bookkeeper and administrative assistant. Numerous volunteers, who are always needed, also contribute to the weekly operation of the newspaper.

The organization has been organized and incorporated under the Maine Nonprofit Corporations Act and designated nonprofit under 501 (c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code. The Town Line, Inc., accomplishes its purpose through advertising revenue of local businesses, through memberships and subscriptions, and from private and town grant assistance.

The Town Line is published every Thursday, except the last week of the year, in South China, Maine. Distribution is free at local businesses in the towns of Albion, China, Palermo, Vassalboro, Windsor, Winslow, Unity, Augusta, Waterville, and various locations in Somerset County.

The Town Line is published by The Town Line, Inc., located at Jonesbrook Crossing in South China, Maine, 04358-0089. Subscriptions are $35. CUSTOMER: Send address changes to The Town Line at P.O. Box 89, South China, Maine 04358-0089.

The DEADLINE for News and Display Advertising is Monday at 4 p.m., Classified Advertising Monday 3 p.m. prior to the following week’s issue.

The Town Line assumes no responsibility for lost or damaged photographs or for typographical errors that may occur, but will reprint, at no additional cost, that part of any advertisement in which the error occurs; however, notification must be received by Monday 3 p.m. following the publication. The Town Line reserves the right to refuse, edit and/or cancel stories, articles, and advertisements submitted for publication. Ads are accepted in good faith and the publisher assumes no liability for false or misleading claims. Published material does not reflect the personal views of the publisher or staff.