THELMA L. MARSTON
FAIRFIELD—Thelma L. Marston, 93, of Green Road, Fairfield, died on Thursday, January 5, 2012. She was born in Kingman, a daughter of Percy and Mary Anne (Davis) Sutter Sr.

Thelma was educated in Gardiner schools. She worked for various health-care providers, retiring from the Augusta Mental Health Institute in 1978 as a nurse's aide. Thelma devoted much of her life to the Old Time Pentecostal Blood Bought Church in Oakland. She was a founding member and a member of the board of trustees. She loved to ride and truly enjoyed scenery. She will be remembered for always having a Bible with her and a kind word from the heart.

Thelma is survived by her children, Donna Preble, of Texas, Tom E. Sr. and wife Mitzy Marston, of East Hampton, Connecticut, Dana G. and wife

Betty Marston, of Fairfield, Candace L. Amburg and husband Douglas, of Carmel, Bishop Dean J. Marston Sr. and wife Rev. Shirley Marston, of Waterville and Dale A. Marston Sr., of Fairfield. She also leaves a sister, Marjorie Connors, of Florida; 25 grandchildren; 43 great-grandchildren; 15 great-great-grandchildren; and many nieces, nephews and cousins.

She was predeceased by her husband, Elmer L. Marston; her children Dawn L. Marston, Dixie E. Davis, Michael P. Marston and George D. Marston Sr.; her parents and eight siblings.
